

Office Space Opportunity

Family Health Clinic

The future of family medicine in Alberta has been changed forever by two major forces: the pandemic and the economy.

To remain viable and successful while continuing to provide exceptional patient care, community physicians and their clinics must now consider new business models.

In the past year, Alberta family physicians have transitioned into a system which encourages virtual visits and has reduced need for in-person encounters. This change has reduced the pressure on our existing office spaces and provides an opportunity for larger groups of doctors to work together.

The Family Health Clinic, established in 1994, is a group of 9 physicians with a beautiful large office located within Market Mall.

We are looking for another group of doctors to share our office space in a way that will substantially decrease overhead costs for everyone. We have a number of ideas about how this could work, and if your group is interested, we would love to explore these with you. For anyone who may be giving up a lease within the next year, or anyone looking for a new opportunity, we may be the answer you are looking for.
